particular character, I dare say you will have no objection to give them a place in your next paper. WHEN every public measure, instead of being conducive to the general good, tends only to promote the private consequence of a few individuals; a consequence they cruelly with to fee effected by the ruin of wife and worthy citizens; it may not be improper to trouble the public with a few fentiments, whose only recommendation is that they are equally dispass just .- But, before I say any more, you will give me leave to observe, fir, that in England, the measures of those who ought to be guardians of the rights of the people are canvafs'd with the utmost severity of inquiry! and measures, often founded upon justice and equity are there cruelly and publickly denominated the infidious shares of a designing venal party; but their promoters, confcious of their integrity; confcious that the vox bene judicantium, is theirs, that the applause of the good and wife is a due tribute, and will, tho' delay'd, be paid with gratitude and veneration, their promoters I fay, do, with the facred shield of approving virtue, ward off the obloquy, whilft its arrow wretchedly miffes its aim, and only affures him from whose bow it flew .- Then furely, those on this fide the atlantic, who are honoured either by their fovereign or their fellow Citizens with places of public truft, ought not. though their proceedings should be fair, to think of feeking revenge on an individual for attacking a firm phalanx of worthy characters; much less for finding fault with, or instructing them, when they blindly or maliciously run into a labyrinth of error and abfurdity, out of which, they cannot possibly find their way, 'till called by the friendly, but powerful voice of the people. The detractions of a few, fays a fenfible writer, when united with the general approbation is the most pleasing of all harmony to an honest foul : And, I think it, by no means, a weak argument of guilty exertions of power, when the person, who candidly discusses them, and in consequence of such clear discussion pronounces, before the respectable tribunal of the public, their condemnation; I say, it is rather a confirming testimony of their guilt, when such 2 one is imperiously torn from his family, from that employment which supported it, and from all that render'd life agreeable; add to this; that every man who is suspected of holding similar opinions, or an acquaintance with the persecuted traytor is deem'd unworthy, not only of any the leaft, diftiltinction, but even of an existence, which they wou'd mercifully give him, without bread to sup-port it. — The first wish that animates my heart is the general felicity, that it may not be invaded by those whom we have fondly entrusted with the guardianship of our rights. I hope these rude thoughts, though on an im-portant occasion, may have their desired effect, by making certain persons cautious how they proceed arbitrarily on a future day .-- Their just decrees hall not be rack'd on the wheel of prejudice; but the praise they merit. - Nor shall their erminations be varnish'd over with that low of words; which ferves only to dee, who are less attentive to the matter anguage in which it is clothed; on the they shall be made obvious to every unng, and stigmatize with all the infamy of -I am too prudent, as well as too modelt. oo infignificant to make use of my own figshall therefore, take my leave of you, ter, for the present, fincerely wishing, editude of intention, as well as undermay be the portion of those heads and at rule and influence us .- These ennalities, and none elfe, can filence the complaint, make this province flourist, and give happiness and harmony of sentiment to its numerous inhabitants .- However, you will permit me to subscribe myfelt,

A CITIZEN OF THE WORLD. By Capt. SPARKS, arrived at Philadelphia, in a short Passage, from LONDON, we have the following Advices, viz.

Feb. 5. It is whispered at the Westminster end of the town, that there are feveral fecret articles in the new convention, and that all our claim to Falkland's iffands is figned away.

The dispute between his most Christian Majefty, and the Parliament of Paris, hath terminated in the banishment of every one of them, and the creation of a new one. It is faid that many persons have been lately committed to the Bastile, and that the Prince of Conti hath been forbid to appear at Court.

The Grand Signior, notwithstanding the great fuecess of the Russians, is far from being dispirited. He has rejected, with disdain, the propositions of peace made to him on the part of Ruffia, and that in consequence his Highness is preparing to take the field with a very formidable armament.

Great bodies of Prussian and Austrian troops have entered Poland.

It is reported that the King of Pruffra has taken possession of Polish Prussia.

They write from Paris, that there is at present in, and near, that capital, an army of 60 000 effective men. The Liberty, Thorp, (late Carr) from Virginia, was lost on the Horn Cliff's, near Christ's Church. Some of the materials of the thip will be faved.

We are told by a Court correspondent, that the Spanish Ambassador discovers symptoms of tineasiness at the continuance of our naval preparations, and has even made repeated remonstrances on the occasion.

Feb. 14. It is faid, that a letter was received yesterday from Paris, which mentions, that some Noblemen have been exiled, for refusing to acknowledge the authority of the new Parliament

Col. Barre wittily calls the House of Commons the Book of Numbers; another, not less witty than himself, calls them the Book of Exodus, as they all feem gone aftray and out of the way.

A letter from Madrid mentions, that notwithstanding the late convention with England, the politicians there look upon a war to be unavoidable in a mort time, as both courts feem very little difposed to relax in their hostile preparations.

We hear the greatest care is taken to prevent a great personage reading the letters of Junius. Lord Howe has declined accepting of the Mediterranean, or any other command, in times I these which look so much like peace. James Hume, Efq; is appointed Attorney General of Georgia.

A few days ago a country Gentleman, at a coffee-house, having a news-paper in his hand, faid to another who fat next to him, " I have been looking some time to see what the M-ry are about, but I cannot find where those articles are but, not being used to the London papers." To which the other answered, "Look amongs the Rob-

The Letter de Cachet to each Member of the Parliament of Paris, was worded as follows:

" SIR. " I write you this letter, to order you to depart this day out of my good city of Paris, without receiving or paying any visits, and to repair, without delay, to-, there to remain till further orders from me, without liberty to ftir out of it, under pain of disobedience,-Upon this. Sir, I pray God to take you into his holy keeping, &c.

The toast of the west end of the town is; " May the spirit of the Parliament of Paris diffuse itself into the Senate of Great-Britain "

Thursday night Mr. Wedderburne, and Mr. Whately, divided with the Minority.

Yesterday Mr. Mariner, printer of a paper called the Whisperer, was brought up to the court of King's Bench to receive fentence for printing a Number of the faid papers, and was sentenced to be confined one year in the King's bench prison; to give fecurity for his good behaviour, himfelf to be bound in 1001, penalty, and two other persons in sol. each.

Feb. 15. An evening paper fays, it is rumoured with confidence, that a very melancholy account of the King of Denmark's state of health has been received, from which confequences are to be dreaded worse than the death of that Monarch.

It is reported that Lord North will foon refign the place of first lord of the treasury. It is also faid that Lord Gower will succeed him.

It was reported yesterday morning that Port Egmont is to be abandoned as a useless place, and no further fettlement made on it by Great-Britain.

We are told that a certain Alderman is to procure a city address of thanks on the Spanish convention. A correspondent asks who is to be thanked, the King of Spain, his Ambastador, or Don Buccarelli?

No wonder (fays a correspondent) the Ministry should tempt Lord Lyttleton; - such a character among them would almost fanctify their evil deeds. Feb. 16. The Lords of the Admiralty have ordered that the Press-warrants shall be no longer in force than till the end of this month. It is currently reported that authentic letters have been just received from the Continent, declaring that an amiable Northern Monarch has lately shewn tokens of infanity, and is obliged to be watched with the utmost circumspection. Feb. 23. Thursday at five o clock in the afternoon, a messenger arrived at Lord Rochford's office from Madrid, with the King of Spain's approbation of Prince Maserano's declaration, relative to Falkland's Island, together with an order for the restitution of Port Egmont; upon which notice was instantly sent to Lord North, in the Lower-Affembly, where this intelligence was immediately made known, ----- And yesterday morning notice was fent to the coffee-houses about the Royal Exchange, to prevent the merchants making further applications for protections, as matters were finally adjusted between England and Spain.

Twelve hundred thousand pounds is the neat fum expended upon the late preparations for war.

The conspiracy formed between the Marquis de Grimaldi, the head of the Spanish Ministry, and the Duc de Choiseul, to involve Europe in a general war, was the real cause of the design of the latter. It was agreed between the two ministers, that the negociation with England should be protracted, till a French army of 40,000 men could be got ready to march into Brabant. The Count de Stanvill, Choiseul's Brother, was to have the command, and to carry a requisition, that the United Provinces should immediately become parties in the war on the fide of France; in case of refusal, he was to commence hostilities. The States, upon the discovery of this secret machination, applied immediately to the King of Prussia, whose Minister was the first person who carried the designs of Choiseul to the King, his master. Louis, who is naturally an enemy to bloodshed, preferred the turning out of his Minister to a war, SAVONA, Jan. 5. HEY write from Corfica, that the French have restored all the effects that had been conficated under the preceding government. They have published an edict there, ekablishing the use of stamped paper, but have diminished a 20th of the imposts of the present year as a softner. The nephew of Count Marbout is going to raile a new regiment of Corficans; they have established a militia also there, but will grant no more pastports to the Corficans, who want to pass to the Continent.

From the Frontiers of Poland, Jan. 25. The Confederates in number about 1000 men, who attempted to make themselves masters of Cracovia, and who only were able to possess that part of the town called Wazimera, were driven from thence by a Russian Lieutenant who commanded the place, and having received a reinforcement from Oidschelwitz, attacked the Confederates, who retired after having 300 men killed, and leaving 100 horses and feven pieces of cannon for the conquerors, whose Lieutenant was killed in the action.

Venice, Jan. 30. Our insurance company suftains a loss of above 86,000 Ducats on the two thips from Turkey, laden with tobacco, which foundered at fea, off the Isle of Cerigo, or Zante. Two vessels carrying English colours, laden with falt meat, have, in the fame latitude, met with the same missortune. As to the negociation which has been carried on at Constantinople between M. Le Bas, the French Ambassador's Secretary, and Count Orlow, concerning peace between the Turks and the Russians, nothing has yet transpired. However, from the great warlike preparations, which are carried on with the utmost diligence, it may be concluded that it is come to nothing. It is faid that within this month the Grand Signior will remove the whole Court and Seraglio to Adrianople, in order to be nearer his camp; and he is faid to have not as yet dropt the resolution of putting himself at the head of his troops, which will be by far more numerous than any of the preceding cam-

Mahomed Bashaw, the new appointed Grand Vifir, is making great strides from the borders of Bosnia, at the head of a considerable number of Arnautes and Bosnians, towards Adrianople. A great number of officers are fent to all parts in the Turkish dominions to raise troops, and to regulate the head-quarters; particularly great diligence is used to restore the loss of the artillery, and other warlike stores they lost in the last campaign.

Zevenbergen, Feb. 7. There now remains no longer a doubt but that the Russians are masters of Wallachia. All the peafants who fied from thence into this principality, are returned to their home. except their wives, whom they left here, because they would fee first whether it was fate for them to return also. The Grand Vizir has forsaken the places on the Donau after he had reinforced the garrison of Silistria and Varna, in Bulgaria, and retired farther into Romelia. From Adrianople (where the new Vizir is just arrived) to Bafaploctrick, along the river Munifa, all fwarms with troops, which are divided and stationed in villages and boroughs. The roads from Constantinople and Adrianople are continually covered with waggons and earriages, wherefore great numbers of artillery, ammunition and provision are continually arriving at the army.

LONDON.

Feb. 9. The enormous fum of 80,000l. issued from the Treasury in exact sums of 3001. each, looks as if we were really in a state of decay, for it borders on corruption.

We hear that the motion made by Sir George Saville in the Lower Assembly yesterday, was that leave be given to bring in a bill for more effectually. securing the rights of the electors of Great-Britain, with respect to the eligibility of persons to serve in Parliament. The House divided, Ayes 103, Noes 167. The principal Speakers were Sir G. Saville, the Attorney General, the Solicitor General, Serjeant Glynn, Mr. C. Fox; Mr. Hubbard, and some others. The House rose about eight o'clock.

The Petition ordered at the last Court to be prepared by a Committee, for free importation of Wheat from America and elsewhere, was read, approved, and ordered to be figned by the Town House of Commons, the present Sheriffs being Members of Parliament.

The unexpected appointment of Lord Mansfield to the Chair in the upper House, gives great scope for political speculation.

This morning the publishers of the Middlesex Journal and Gazetteer, were ordered to attend the Lower Club Room on Monday next, for publithing the debates of that House. The Motion for the above order was carried by a Majority of 90. to 55.

Extract of a letter from the Hague, Feb. 5. " The last letters from Vienna confirm the accounts we have received from Conftantinople, advifing, that there is no longer any figns of accomplishing a peace between the Turks and the Ruffians: The Grand Seignior having haughtily rejected as unacceptable, the conditions proposed by the court of Petersburg, the labstance of which is affured to be as follows:

" 1. The liberty of a free navigation in the Black Sea. 2. The cession of all Crimea for ever. The independance of the Tartars, who are no longer to be subject to the Ottoman Porte in any degree. 4. The cession of Moldavia, Wallachia, and Bessarabia, which provinces, however, the Ruffians do not intend to take possession of in their own right, but will transfer them to two other foreign Princes who are not named. 5. The payment of 20 millions of rubles, to reimburse the expence they have been at on account of the prefent war. " These demands on the part of Russia so exasperated the Grand Signior, that he rejected them with disdain, and determined to risk another campaign, and to command his army in person. These letters add, that three camps are to be formed next fpring, one near Luxemburgh, another near Neustadt, and the third between Baden and Pest in Hungary, the last of which it is faid, is to confist of between 40 and 50,000 men, with a proportionable train of artillery; from all which it is apparent that the Empress Queen has some important stroke in view, tho' at present it is not known." Extract of a Letter from Lord Weymouth to Mr.

Harris, dated at St. James's, Oct. 17, 1770. "His Majesty cannot accept, under a convention, that fatisfaction to which he has so just a title, without entering into any engagements to procure The idea of his Majesty's becoming a contracting party, upon this occasion, is entirely foreign to the case; for, having received an injury and demanded the most moderate reparation of that injury his honour will permit him to accept, that reparation loses its value, if it is to be conditional, and to be obtained by any stipulation whatfoever on the part of his Majesty."

Feb. 11. It is confidently afferted, that the Livery will be shortly summoned to meet in Guildhall, in order to give their fense to the subject of a Remonstrance to the Throne concerning the negociation with Spain.

The 51st and 61st regiments of foot have received orders to embark for Minorca, together with the second battalion of the Royals, to relieve three regiments on duty there, that are foon expected home.

Feb. 12. Our correspondent from Dijon, the capital town of Burgundy, remarks, that the regiment which had been in garrison there some months, received orders the week before last, to hold themselves in readiness to change their garrifon; and on Friday fe'nnight, having received their orders for marching two or three days before, the whole regiment confisting of two battallions, began their march from Dijon to their destined rendevouz, which was quite at Rochelle, a feaport town, distant from Dijon at least 600 miles. But before this half starved regiment had marched one quarter of the way they were obliged to make one general halt, having already loft upwards of 400 of their men, by death, fickness and famine.

By the same advice we learn, that the price of bread was five fous per pound, all over the province of Burgundy; and that mifery, and one universal face of famine, reigns throughout that part of the French dominions.

We hear by a letter from Paris, that the King of France has fent the Prince of Conti, Duke of Orleans, and several other Princes of the Blood, into exile, for not acknowledging the new Parliament in France.

Feb. 14. After the dismission of the Parliament of Paris, all the King's Council, in the night between the 22d and 23d ult. by order, waited on his Majesty, when he provisionally appointed them to replace the parliament, and told them that he reckoned upon their zeal and attachment to his fervice, and that it was essential to give an example of their submission at that moment, and that he ordered them to do fo. Immediately they fell on their knees before his Majesty, and, while they were begging him to difpense with such an humilating command, he stopped them short, and or-Clerk, and presented by a Committee to the Hon. dered them to retire. Two or three days after they were ordered again to attend, when they received their charge; and his Majesty told them that he would maintain, with all his authority, their arrets, and would favour those who most diftinguished themselves. A few mornings after. those Gentlemen waited on the Chancellor, who, with them, was escorted in grand parade to the palace. A numerous guard attended to protect them from the infults of the populace, who were gathered together in great crowds. After the registering the edict in dispute, three causes were called, but the Attornies, under various pretexts, would not bring them on, and the Court then broke up. While the Counsellors of State, and Masters of Requelts; were traverfing the palace, they were infulted with the most horrible hisles. Where this affair will end, no one knows; for though the Attornies shew a readiness to obey orders, the most celebrated advocates have absented, and no butinets can go on.

BOSTON, APRIL, 15. We hear that the Board of Commissioners have appointed Philip Loring, Efq; to fucceed Alexander Barclay, Efq; deceased, as Comptroller of the Customs for the Port of Philadelphia.

Last Saturday failed from hence for Hallifar, the Boston, the Rose, and Senegal Ships of War, together with feveral Transports, in order, as it is faid to bring up the Troops from thence; with what defign we know not. Extract of a letter from a Gentleman of confidera-ble Note in London, dated Feb. 24, 1771. ... I hope the ill Treatment you have had from our M.n --- ry, is drawing to a Period. They are, I believe heartily fick of the Affair, and so hard pressed by the Opposition, as to be willing to leffen the Number of your Enemies, and of the Objections to your Management. I am fo well persuaded, that North-America will, within a Hundred Years, be the Seat of Commerce, Liberty, and Power, and the Refuge of the Friends to Liberty, and the Protestant Religion; that, were not I to far advanced in Life, I would come over

N E W - P O R T, April, 15. Last Monday arrived Capt, Edward Woodman, from a Whaling Voyage, who, in Lat. 18. 32, Long. 48, about the 10th of March, spoke the Brig William, Capt. On Wednesday Morning the 17th Instant, Martha Harper, Wife of Anthony Harper, Gunsmith, being found dead in her Bed, he was fuspected of having murdered her, and information given accordingly; he was taken up, and a Jury of Inquest impannelled, who on a strict enquiry, found that he had betere made feveral Attempts upon her Life : That once he had broke her Leg, another Time attempted to hang her with her Garters, but was prevented by their breaking, that some Time after he attempted to cut her Throat with a Razor, which luckily miffed the Windpipe; but cut her under the Chin, of which the recovered, the Surgeons on examining her Body, found no fresh Marks of Violence, and judged that she died with excessive Drinking, which also was the Verdict of the Jury.

All the Day before her Death, and the Evening, she was very much intoxicated, and fell affect on the Floor, where the lay till about 5 o'Clock in the Morning, when her Hufband got up, put her into Bed, and covered her up, then went out and told some of his Acquaintance that be believed she was dead: At about 8 o'Clock he returned to his House, and finding her still in Bed, called in some of his Neighbours, telling them he believed his Wife had a Fit,

73 84 INOCULATION,

[Under no specious Title.]

Totwithstanding any reports to the contrary; Doctor Rogers begs leave to acquaint the public, that he Itill continues the practice of inoculation at his hospital near Norwalk with amazing success, having inoculated upwards of a thousand without the loss of one fingle patient. He is very confident that the more fenfible part of mankind cannot, and hopes that others will not be amused with Suttonian pretences, when it is a well known fact that inoculation is not, nor ever was fo much practifed. cither in England, Scotland, or Ireland; nor with a degree of fuccess to be compared with that which has attended the practice in North-America. Doctor Rogers makes use o much less Mercury than lis commonly administred, having found by experience that with the help of some other medicines, the constitution is thereby much less exposed to be injured. He has inoculated upwards of three hundred patients within the term of three months, and has had a hundred and fifty under his care at one time. Wherefore although the New-Englanders may thank Mr. Latham for his purticular concern for them ; yet they may perhaps think that they may possibly do without his immediate services. Doctor Rogers' is much obliged to the public for the custom he has already been favoured with, and hopes for the continuance of their favours of the like kind, as he still stands ready to serve

Dated at Norwalk, the aoth day of March, 1771. To be fold, and entered on the first day of May next, HE very beautifully fituated and convenient House and Lot of Ground, at the Head of Marshpath-Creek, being the public Landing in the Bounds of Newtown, Queen's County, on Long-Ifland, belonging to William Sackett, Jun. about 7 Miles from New-York, either by Land or Water. The House is large and well constructed, a large Barn and other out House convenient, is well fituated for a Shop or Tavern, and has a right to the Stream, which is sufficient to erect a Mill with one or two Pair of Stones : The faid Creek runs within 200 Yards of the House. The Lot contain about 30 Acres of most excellent Land, with very many Fruit Trees, of various Kinds : The public Road from New-York Ferry to Newtown, leads by the Place at a convenient Distance from the House; from which there is a prety Prospect of Meadows and Creeks. Oysters, Fish and Crab plenty, in their Seasons; likewise two Lots of Wood-Land, one of 7 Acres, within a Mile of the Dwelling House, and another of 5 Acres, about two Miles distant; likewise a Piece of Salt Meadow, yearly affording 6 or 7 Loads of Hay. Any one inclining to purchase, may apply to me the Subscriber, living upon the Premises, who will agree on Feb. 7, 1771. WILLIAM SACKETT, Jun. reasonable Term.

HE Creditors of Israel Joseph, an absconding Debtor, some Years ago from Rynbeck, in Dutchess County, are desired to send in their Accounts duly attested; and all Persons having any just Demands against the Trustees of the said spsconding Debtor's Eliate, are also defired to produce their Accounts by the roth Day of June next, to Isaac Low, Merchant in New-York, that all the Accounts may be adjusted, and Dividend made as foon as possible; a vexatious Suit in Chancery, which has lately been decided, having hitherto prevented a Settlement of the faid Eftate.

To be LET, Either one half or the whole of Handsome well built house, and in full view of the city of New-York. The house is two stories high and has four rooms on a sloor, with fire places in each, (except that two of the rooms above are at present in one large room, not yet partitioned off,) with a good kitchen and cellar, convenient rooms for servants, and a good stable sufficient for a dozen horses. The house may be taken either with or without a good pasture adjoining, and a large garden plot of ground of two or three acres, inclosed in a handsome pale fence. For further particulars inquire of the subscriber on the premises.
